

February 2017

3 NEWS

Last year the Mets went 87-75 (an acceptable 36-hole golf score). They are now tuning up for the 2017 season in Florida.

5 NEW TRACKS

Tobacco Road is the realization of a determined philosophy, and one that patrons have come to cherish.

7 INNOVATIONS

Traveling in Jay Mottola's company, one might experience novel golf formats, and exotic locales. And he's given you a pre-travel reading assignment!

9 EVENT PLANNER

The rolling hills of Eastern Oregon are now a laboratory of golf's most cutting-edge architectural set-up.

11 CHECKING OUT

The majestic Rocky Mountains are the backdrop to a special birthday celebration next year.

Pictured: The natural wonders of Colorado's Broadmoor have always been enhanced by great architecture. Contributors included the firm Warren and Wetmore, who also designed Manhattan's New York Yacht Club, Helmsley Building, Steinway Hall and the Grand Central Terminal.*

The Met Golfer TRAVELER

THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE METROPOLITAN GOLF ASSOCIATION

MGAGOLF.ORG

THE NEW

Silvies Valley Ranch (www.silviesvalleyranch.com) in the cowboy lands of Oregon is set to open a frontier retreat this summer with plans for two reversible 18-hole courses, a private airstrip, and a full-service Spa. Guests will soak in the pure west at this working ranch which has family roots back to 1863, and is well know for raising certified, organic cattle and American Range goats.

OLD WORLD